SEEKS RAZOR, GETS JAILED

John Smith Is Facing Two Charges As Result of Visit To Sheriff's Office

The next time John Smith, colored, wants the return of his razor from the sheriff's office, he will not go there while intoxicated and while he is being sought on a warrant.

Early in the summer Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell was called to the south end of town where Smith is said to have chased his wife while brandishing that great Afro-American weapon—the razor. All was calm when the deputy sheriff arrived on the scene but he took charge of the razor to prevent any whetting petting parties.

A short time later, Smith made an excursion into West Virginia, from which he failed to return and his wife, Vina Smith, swore out a warrant for his arrest on the charge of not supporting his three minor children.

Wednesday Smith returned to town, decided he needed a shave and went to the sheriff's office after his razor. He is alleged to have blown in there with "three sheets to the wind," loudly and profanely demanding his razor.

The result is that the razor is still in the sheriff's office and the razor's owner is in the sheriff's jail facing charges of intoxication and non-support. Deputy Sheriff John Ward, Jr., did the honors.

Fame Due To Advertising

Here is another letter from another reader of The Herald, who praises advertising:

"The advertised merchandise are articles of nationwide fame. In order to gain and to retain nation wide fame, these products must of necessity be as advertised. In other words, articles of poor quality are soon discarded by the public.

"It is generally agreed that truth and perseverance in advertising bring their results in making an article not only nationally known but nationally used. Hence any product that withstands a long advertising campaign favorably to its sales volume must be of as good quality as advertised.

"While I have not had experience with all the products advertised here, those I have used I have found as advertised. For instance, Sheaffer's Pens, Pencils and Skrif I have two pens and a pencil and have always used Skrif I find that the pen doesn't leak and always writes smoothly while the ink doesn't clog or get gummy and they are always ready for service."

Stimson Ready to Reply on Cuba

Secretary of State Stimson (right), has notified Senator Borah, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, that he is ready to appear before the committee and tell them all that he knows about conditions in Cuba under the administration of President Machado (left), who it has been alleged has gripped the island republic in a fist of iron. Machado's accusers claim that he has inaugurated a veritable reign of terror throughout the island in order to prevent any opposition to his rule.

Grand Jury Probe of Washington's Wetness Is Demanded By Senators

Smith W. Brookhart Offers To Testify Concerning "Flask Dinner."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(INS.)—Like the big oak that from the little acorn grew, the wetness of Washington began to assume the proportions of a real controversy today and the ultimate result may be embarrassing to a number of senators and other officials who have long winked at prohibition law violation by "our best people."

Senator Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa, who convulsed the senate with a story of how flasks were conveniently placed under the table at a dinner attended by many senators, was out today with a challenge to District Attorney Leo Rover to investigate this particular dinner, which was given by "a Wall street gentleman named Fahey."

OFFERS TO TESTIFY
Brookhart was a guest at the dinner, and he backed up his challenge to Rover by offering to go before the grand jury and telling what he saw. Brookhart said Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, was among the other drays attending the dinner. Smoot said he couldn't remember it.

"Rover need not have any fear of stepping on senatorial toes," said the Iowa. "I'll be glad to give the grand jury my story. Now let's see some action."

PLANS NEW DRY ACT
Senator Howard (R) of Nebraska, who started the controversy by an off-hand remark in the senate to the effect that President Hoover apparently lacked the will to enforce prohibition in the capital, thus drawing "a rebuke" from the White House, was also calling upon Rover today to proceed against the Carlton club, a fashionable night club here much patronized by the diplomatic and official set. Howell challenged Rover to padlock the hostelry.

The Nebraskan also announced he is framing a drastic bone-dry act for the District of Columbia, which will make any policeman on his beat a dry agent.

SAUER KRAUT IS DOWNFALL

Miranda Hill Crabill's Craving For German Food Lands Her In Jail.

Miranda Hill Crabill has again joined her husband, Lloyd Crabill beneath the hospitable shelter of the Pickaway-co jail roof. She arrived Wednesday afternoon after she had shown her reluctance to re-establish quarters on the third floor of the bastille by leading Constable Arthur Strawser a merry chase through weeds near E. Washington-st.

Mrs. Crabill was arrested on an affidavit filed in the court of Justice George Strawser by William Spangler charging her with the theft of cabbage valued at $4. She pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the grand jury. Hearing that she was scheduled to go to jail, she broke away from Constable Strawser who finally found her, however, hiding in weeds in the rear of the Caskey restaurant on Washington-st.

Constable Strawser and Officer William McCrady visited the Crabill home at Weldon and Chinton-sts where it is said that a crock and a lard can of sauer kraut was found to show the fate of the cabbage. The officers also found a bench wringer which it is alleged had been stolen from the residence of Mrs. Redman on Abemethy-ave.

Lloyd Crabill is in jail charged with stealing a tent from "Dude" Stillemeier. The last time both Mr. and Mrs. Crabill were in jail was last spring when he was charged with stealing a tarpaulin and she was held on a chicken theft charge.

WOMAN HURT AS TRACTION, AUTO COLLIDE

Portsmouth Resident Is Injured In Crash at Stevenson's Crossing.

Mrs. Samuel Meeks, of Portsmouth, suffered possible internal injuries Thursday morning when the Chrysler sedan in which she was riding with her husband and daughter, Virginia, skidded into the 10:09 traction car at Stevenson's crossing, north of Circleville. She also received a cut on her forehead and left hand.

The accident happened when the Meeks machine coming from Columbus skidded on the slippery road, and turned around three times before it crashed into the traction car. Virginia, an adopted daughter, aged four, was picked up from the ground by her father. The only injury she received, however, was a skinned chin. She was standing up by the front door of the car when the accident happened. Mr. Meeks suffered bruises on his right leg.

Will Rigney was the motorman in charge of the Scioto Valley traction car which crashed with the Meeks machine.

A passing motorist brought Mr. and Mrs. Meeks and Virginia to Circleville where they were given medical attention by Dr. D. V. Courtwright. The wrecked automobile was taken to the Harry Clifton garage on W. Main-st. The machine was caved in on the right side, the glass broken and fender demolished. The axle was bent on the back wheels and the car had to be left here for repairs.

Meeks is a railroad engineer out of Portsmouth. They had been to Columbus where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Shindler, who is a patient at University hospital, awaiting an operation.

Mrs. Meeks, aside from the injuries received in this accident is suffering from a tubercular infection on her right hand, which is being worn in splints and heavy bandages.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Throckmorton, of Circleville, escaped serious injury Wednesday evening when their automobile said to be driven by Mrs. Throckmorton skidded and turned over on the Scioto Trail just south of Bloomfield. The accident happened near the twin elm trees. The occupants of the car were cut and bruised.

The new taxicab operated from the Scioto Valley Traction station by Robert Hundley of York-st, skidded at Walnut and Court-sts at noon Thursday and tore off the left back wheel. The fenders on the right side were also somewhat damaged. There were no passengers in the car at the time of the accident.

TIGER RALLY TO BE TONIGHT

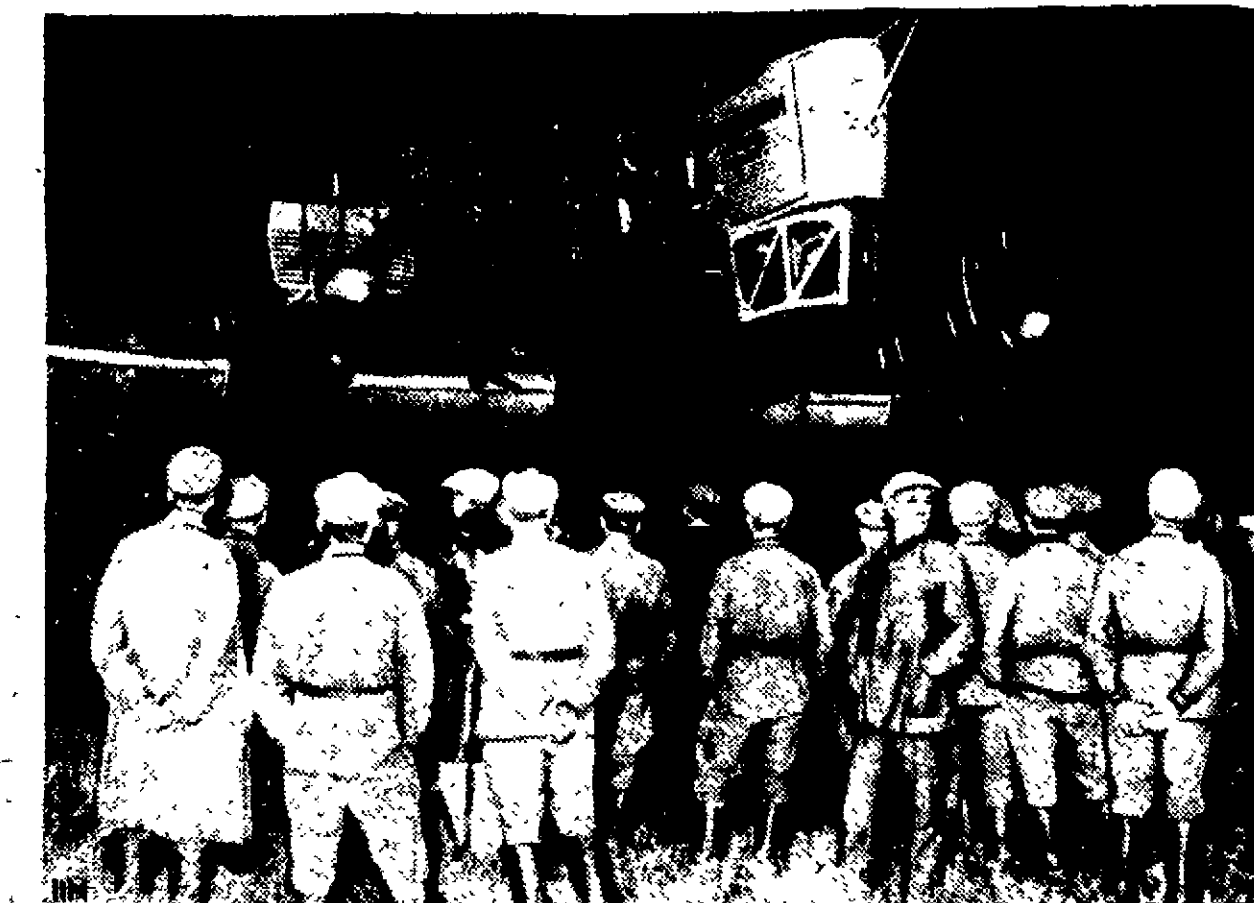

C. H. High School Students Will Have Pre-game Celebration In City.

Whoops and yells Thursday night in Circleville and a throng of young people winding their way in a snake dance through the main streets of the town will not mean some wild Apaches have broken loose and are on the war path, but that the high school gang is out to show that they are staging a rally in anticipation of the football game Friday with Walnut-twp. There is nothing like youth for furnishing the necessary enthusiasm before a football game, to instill spirit in a team.

Like the colleges, high schools have learned the value and good time of a rally, and Circleville has followed suit for the past few years. Tonight will be the first of the year.

There will be only three games played at home this year, according to the schedule so far. High school students are selling season tickets and are asking the co-operation of the Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in town.

MAN HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

Autoist Charged With Manslaughter After Tragedy Near Frankfort.

Ralph Buckley, 30, Dayton, was arrested at Dayton Tuesday and returned to Chillicothe to answer a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Anne Garrett, 19, of Jackson, who died Aug. 18, in the city hospital from injuries she received when Buckley's machine overturned near Vester Crossroads, at Lucas Hill, on Route 11, two miles west of Frankfort.

The complaint against Buckley was signed by Mrs. Sylvia Zornes, Dayton, sister of the Garrett girl. At the request of the girl's relatives, Sheriff Fox has made an intensive investigation of the case and says the probe discloses that Buckley had been drinking and was driving at a high rate of speed on the wrong side of the road when the accident happened.

In the wreck, Buckley escaped with only minor scratches. Miss Garrett was pinned beneath the machine. Sheriff Fox, in his investigation, learned Buckley told several Frankfort people that he had been drinking a little and that he was operating the Pontiac roadster at 70 miles an hour when it left the road.

Buckley is married but contends he does not live with his wife. He kept company with the Garrett girl in Dayton and drove her to Jackson where they visited her parents. The day of the wreck, Buckley contended that his machine had been crowded off the road by another automobile which did not stop.

RECOVERING FROM ELECTRICAL BURN

R. F. Brown, of Ashville, was in Circleville Thursday. He is recovering from burns received Friday the 13, while on duty with the Scioto Valley Traction Co.

He managed to climb down the pole unaided and removing his glove, he rubbed his hand to start the circulation. His arm was burned, however, and he was brought to Circleville to the office of Dr. Shane.

SENTENCE TO PRISON FACED

Mrs. Pantagne, Wife of Theater Magnate, Guilty of Manslaughter.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Alexander Pantagne today faces the penalty of one to ten years imprisonment in the Penitentiary for the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese Gardener.

The jury of five women and seven men, last night returned a verdict of manslaughter after more than eight hours deliberation.

Mrs. Pantagne, wife of the millionaire theatre operator, was brought to trial on a charge of second degree murder after the automobile she was driving crashed into the car of Rokumoto, burying his family in to the street and fatally injuring him.

The state charged that she was intoxicated when it occurred. According to reports from the jury room the jurors at no time were in favor of acquitting the defendant. The main point of debate was what charge she was guilty of the count of murder or manslaughter and the question of a recommendation for mercy.

The verdict, however, contained no recommendation for mercy. Deathly pale and staring idly into space when the verdict was read by the clerk, Mrs. Pantagne gasped audibly as the word "guilty" was uttered. Then she sat for minutes like a figure graven in gray stone while the court went through the red tape of legal procedure.

STORM'S PATH SWERVING OUT TO SEA AGAIN

Tempestuous Prevails In Southern State As Danger Remains Imminent.

(BULLETIN)

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 26.—The center of the West Indian hurricane has now recovered north-northeast and is headed out to sea, according to advice from the Havana, Cuba, weather bureau picked up here today by the only al reserve radio station.

It was feared, the official said, that Ft. Lauderdale might get a slight back lash from the storm.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 26.—Relief of the entire state of Florida breathed a sigh of relief and hope today upon the receipt of bulletin from Washington and Jupiter which indicated the hurricane is remaining almost stationary over the Caribbean sea and its course uncertain.

The feeling of tempestuous gripping the people since the first hurricane warnings were broadcast has not abated, however.

After waiting all night and morning for the wind to rise, residents were suffering from lack of sleep and prospect of a continued vigil.

WEATHER NEAR NORMAL
The weather here is almost normal. A slight wind is blowing and the sun shining. Barometer along the coast were reported scarcely moving, with rising tendencies.

Barometer readings all along the coast showed a strengthening position at 9:30 o'clock. No sign of the storm was apparent in Miami. There was very slight movement of the clouds applied to resume daily activities were beginning to feel a reaction from their long night vigil.

HOPE FOR ESCAPE
The fact that the disturbance is apparently stationary led some of those familiar with the ways of hurricanes to hope that it might recur and lose itself in the ocean. This development sometimes follows a lull in the progress of such a "blow". Even should this hope materialize, the lower east coast would still be whipped by gale winds for a recurring hurricane always throws out tall winds a considerable distance as it turns.

With word that the storm would not strike the coast before noon, residents of cities and towns throughout southeastern Florida took advantage of the few hours' respite thus granted them to perfect arrangements for defeating the onslaught of the hurricane.

Never in history has any community so quickly and effectively prepared itself to meet a seemingly inevitable catastrophe. Many news that the hurricane, born of violent disturbances off the Bahamas, was advancing steadily toward the coast which had suffered from time to time in the past from similar storms, southeastern Florida has had, long ago thought—to prepare for the worst.

TRAIN IS WRECKED
MACON, Ga., Sept. 26.—Edward W. Callahan, 48, engineer, was killed and six persons were injured, one probably fatally, when a central of Georgia passenger train ran through a washout near here early today.

The washout occurred near a small creek, four miles west of Wadley, Ga. Inclement rains, believed due to the tropical disturbance approaching the east coast of Florida, caused the creek to overflow.

SENTENCE TO PRISON FACED

Mrs. Pantages, Wife of Theater Magnate, Guilty of Manslaughter.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Alexander Pantages today faces the penalty of one to ten years imprisonment in the Penitentiary for the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese Gardener.

The jury of five women and seven men, last night returned a verdict of manslaughter after more than eight hours deliberation.

Mrs. Pantages, wife of the millionaire theatre operator, was brought to trial on a charge of second degree murder after the automobile she was driving crashed into the car of Rokumoto, hurling his family in to the street and fatally injuring him.

The state charged that she was intoxicated when it occurred.

According to reports from the jury room, the jurors at no time were in favor of acquitting the defendant. The main point of debate was what charge she was guilty of—the count of murder or manslaughter, and the question of a recommendation for mercy.

The verdict, however, contained no recommendation for mercy. Deathly pale and staring idly into space when the verdict was read by the clerk, Mrs. Pantages gasped audibly as the word "Guilty" was uttered. Then she sat for minutes like a figure graven in gray stone while the court went through the red tape of legal procedure.

STORM'S PATH SWERVING OUT TO SEA AGAIN

Tenseness Prevails In Southern State As Danger Remains Imminent.

(BULLETIN)
ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 26.—

The center of the West Indian hurricane has now recurved north northeast and is headed out to sea, according to advices from the Havana, Cuba, weather bureau, picked up here today by the naval reserve radio station.

It was feared, the advice said, that Ft. Lauderdale may get a slight back lash from the storm.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 26.—The population of the entire east coast of Florida breathed a sigh of relief and hope today upon the receipt of bulletins from Washington and Jupiter which indicated the hurricane is remaining almost stationary over the Caribbean sea and its course uncertain.

The feeling of tenseness gripping the people since the first hurricane warnings were broadcast has not abated, however.

After waiting all night and morning for the winds to rise, residents were suffering from lack of sleep and prospect of a continued vigil.

WEATHER NEAR NORMAL
The weather here is almost normal. A slight wind is blowing and the sun shining. Barometers along the coast were reported scarcely moving, with rising tendencies.

Barometer readings all along the coast showed a strengthened position at 9:30 o'clock. No signs of the storm were apparent in Miami. There was very little breeze. Residents of the city, excited to resume daily routine, were beginning to feel a nervous reaction from their long night's vigil.

HOPE FOR ESCAPE

The fact that the disturbance is apparently stationary led some of those familiar with the ways of hurricanes to hope that it might recur and lose itself in the ocean. This development sometimes follows a lull in the progress of such a "blow." Even should this hope materialize, the lower east coast would still be whipped by gale winds for a recurring hurricane always throws out tail winds a considerable distance as it turns.

With word that the storm would not strike the coast before noon, residents of cities and towns throughout southeastern Florida took advantage of the few hours' respite thus granted them to perfect arrangements for defeating the onslaught of the hurricane.

Never in history has any community so quickly and effectively prepared itself to meet a seemingly inevitable catastrophe. Since news that the hurricane, born of violent disturbances off the Bahamas, was advancing relentlessly toward the coast which has suffered from time to time in the past from similar storms, southeastern Florida has had but one thought—to prepare for the worst.

TRAIN IS WRECKED

MACON, Ga., Sept. 26.—Edward W. Callahan, 48, engineer, was killed and six persons were injured, one probably fatally, when a central of Georgia passenger train ran through a washout near here early today.

The washout occurred near a small creek, four miles west of Wadley, Ga. Incessant rains, believed due to the tropical disturbance approaching the east coast of Florida, caused the creek to overflow.

LOAN COMPANY MEN TO MEET

Pickaway To Be Represented
At Gathering To Consider Amendment.

The proposed tax limit amendment, to be voted on Nov. 5 is to be explained to building and loan officers from this community at a meeting to be held next Tuesday in Athens.

Local loan officials will join with others from Adams, Athens, Gallia, Highland, Hocking, Jackson, Lawrence, Meigs, Morgan, Pike, Pickaway, Ross, Scioto and Vinton counties to hear officers of their state organization discuss the proposed tax reform.

Inasmuch as building and loan companies lend approximately 80 per cent of their funds on homes, officers of these institutions are vitally interested in tax changes that will affect the home owner.

A bulletin from the office of James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association League, points out to building and loan officers that real estate bears 75 per cent of the taxable property in Ohio. "Home owners are unorganized," Mr. Devine's statement continues, "and building and loan officers should accept the responsibility of acquainting them with a tax amendment, drafted from the sole standpoint of protecting the owner of real estate from further tax inroads under the Uniform Rule." The building and loan men from this section of the state will be asked to endorse the proposed tax limit amendment and assist in the campaign which is now being waged in Ohio for its adoption.

County School News

PICKAWAY-TWP.

P. T. A. MEETING
Our P. T. A. held its first meeting of the season last Friday night. About 200 were present. After the business session and program ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

NAME OMITTED
When typing our letter last week the name of Mrs. Bradley was omitted from the list of those attending the teachers' picnic supper. She is the wife of our agriculture teacher.

TEACHERS ABSENT
Miss Wertman remained at home last Friday to treat a bad cold. Monday Mr. Althaus attended the funeral of a brother-in-law.

HEALTH INSPECTION
Our county health department, consisting of Dr. Heffner and nurse, Miss Bartholomew, paid us one of their regular visits last Wednesday. We wonder if the people really know how valuable this service is to the boys and girls in school. What we ought to have is a full time doctor and a full time school nurse. Prevention is better and cheaper than cure.

CENTRALIA DEFEATED

Our baseball team defeated Centralia nine on our diamond last Friday afternoon with a score of 8 to 1. Friday of this week the Salt Creek teams (boys and girls) are scheduled to play here.

CUTTING CORN

A large number of our boys are out this week to help cut corn. We hope their help at home will make up for the loss in school work; yet we doubt very much if it will, because the school work is greatly handicapped by this absence. When parents fully understand how great this loss is, they surely will not keep the boys out more than is absolutely necessary.

DRIVERS ARE GOOD

Our drivers this year are the same as last year, and they are giving the same good service. Our truck bodies are small, but we have 12 of them. The number hauled in each range from 22 to 31. The drivers are Messrs. Hankins, Newlin, E. Dumm, Yapple, Hildebrandt, Dumm, Seimer, Mowery, Anderson, McAfee, Wright and Smith, with routes 1 to 12, respectively.

MUSIC INSTRUCTION

We have arranged with The Capital University Conservatory of Music for them to send us each week some of their regular teaching staff to teach individual instrumental lessons to those whose parents are willing to furnish the instrument and pay for the lessons. The purpose is to develop the musical talent of the community, to create a greater interest in and appreciation of good music, and to develop a school orchestra. All of the up-to-date schools either have or are arranging to have an orchestra or band. We want our boys and girls to have the same opportunities that the boys and girls of other communities have. The instruments to be taught include the following: trumpet, trombone, tuba, clarinet, saxophone, drums, violin, and cello. Parents who are interested in this proposition should make arrangements at once so that the students can all start at the same time. If we get an early start and if the students work faithfully, we may be able to get some orchestra work started next spring. However, we can not hope to do much orchestra work until the second year. The Capital University officials are not interested in this work as a residence property. The Ella S. Crites residence at 422 E. Main at Circleville will be sold by the sheriff on next Monday afternoon, Sept. 30th at the Court House. This is an opportunity to buy a good modern home in an excellent location. For more particulars see legal advertisement.

money-making proposition. They are interested in the development of musical talent, and their main purpose is to be of service in this way to as many people as possible in central Ohio. We feel that this is a real opportunity for many of our boys and girls, and, therefore, we are glad to co-operate with them and with these instructors by arranging a schedule for this instruction.

P. T. A. REORGANIZE
The P. T. A. was reorganized Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 18, at the school building. The officers of last year were reelected. The officers are as follows:

Mrs. William Skinner, president; Mrs. Helen Skinner, secretary; Mr. G. W. Cox, vice president; Mrs. Paul Beck, treasurer.

A reception was planned for the teachers for Wednesday evening, Sept. 25. This is to be a fried chicken supper followed by a program. All parents are invited to bring their picnic baskets and come.

AUDITORIUM COMPLETED

The auditorium was completed last week and the seats and piano moved in by the manual training boys with the result of several mashed fingers.

ORCHESTRA AT WORK

The orchestra work has been resumed with Miss Ater as director. Besides the director there are 13 members. The members are as follows: Miss Fifi and Bertus Carleton Bennett, violin; Carroll Hughes, John Kirk and Maynard Campbell, saxophones; William Brown, Trombone; Willis Cleary, Junior Campbell and George Speakman, cornet; Oakley Turner and Donald Cleary, drums; Lela Tarbill and Kathryn Kirk, piano. Of these 11 played in our orchestra last year.

County Supt. M. C. Warren visited the local school Monday afternoon.

The school busses have now been marked according to law and attention is called to the law requiring traffic to stop while they are loading or unloading pupils.

Notice to the public

SUPPOSE you are today paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (and there are many very good dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes during a year. Now if you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save each year the price of 25 loaves of bread or 60 bars of soap or 40 pounds of sugar or a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.

The Mark of Genuine Aspirin

BAYER ASPIRIN is like an old friend, tried and true. There can never be a satisfactory substitute for either one. Bayer Aspirin is genuine. It is the accepted antidote for pain. Its relief may always be relied on, whether used for the occasional headache, to head-off a cold, or for the more serious aches and pains from neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatism or other ailments. It's easy to identify Bayer Aspirin by the Bayer Cross on every tablet, by the name Bayer on the box and the word genuine printed in red.

PICKAWAY-TWP.

P. T. A. MEETING
Our P. T. A. held its first meeting of the season last Friday night. About 200 were present. After the business session and program ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

NAME OMITTED
When typing our letter last week the name of Mrs. Bradley was omitted from the list of those attending the teachers' picnic supper. She is the wife of our agriculture teacher.

TEACHERS ABSENT
Miss Wertman remained at home last Friday to treat a bad cold. Monday Mr. Althaus attended the funeral of a brother-in-law.

HEALTH INSPECTION
Our county health department, consisting of Dr. Heffner and nurse, Miss Bartholomew, paid us one of their regular visits last Wednesday. We wonder if the people really know how valuable this service is to the boys and girls in school. What we ought to have is a full time doctor and a full time school nurse. Prevention is better and cheaper than cure.

CENTRALIA DEFEATED
Our baseball team defeated the Centralia nine on our diamond last Friday afternoon with a score of 8 to 1. Friday of this week the Saltcreek teams (boys and girls) are scheduled to play here.

CUTTING CORN
A large number of our boys are out this week to help cut corn. We hope their help-at-home will make up for the loss in school work; yet we doubt very much if it will, because the school work is greatly handicapped by this absence. When parents fully understand how great this loss is, they surely will not keep the boys out more than is absolutely necessary.

DRIVERS ARE GOOD
Our drivers this year are the same as last year, and they are giving the same good service. Our truck bodies are small, but we have 12 of them. The number hauled in each range from 22 to 31. The drivers are Messrs. Hankins, Newlin, E. Dumm, Yaple, Hildebrandt, Dumm, Seimer, Mowery, Anderson, McAfee, Wright and Smith, with routes 1 to 12, respectively.

MUSIC INSTRUCTION
We have arranged with The Capital University Conservatory of Music for them to send us each week some of their regular teaching staff to teach individual instrumental lessons to those whose parents are willing to furnish the instrument and pay for the lessons. The purpose is to develop the musical talent of the community, to create a greater interest in and appreciation of good music, and to develop a school orchestra. All of the up-to-date schools either have or are arranging to have an orchestra or band. We want our boys and girls to have the same opportunities that the boys and girls of other communities have. The instruments to be taught include the following: trumpet, trombone, tuba, clarinet, saxophone, drums, violin, and cello. Parents who are interested in this proposition should make arrangements at once so that the students can all start at the same time. If we get an early start and if the students work faithfully, we may be able to get some orchestra work started next spring. However, we can not hope to do much orchestra work until the second year. The Capital University officials are not interested in this work as a money-making proposition. They are interested in the development of musical talent, and their main purpose is to be of service in this way to as many people as possible in central Ohio. We feel that this is a real opportunity for many of our boys and girls, and, therefore, we are glad to co-operate with them and with these instructors by arranging a schedule for this instruction.

PERRY TWP.

P. T. A. REORGANIZED
The P. T. A. was reorganized Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 18, at the school building. The officers of last year were reelected. The officers are as follows:
Mrs. William Skinner, president; Mrs. Helen Skinner, secretary; Mr. G. W. Cox, vice president; Mrs. Paul Peck, treasurer.

A reception was planned for the teachers for Wednesday evening, Sept. 25. This is to be a fried chicken supper followed by a program. All parents are invited to bring their picnic baskets and come.

AUDITORIUM COMPLETED
The auditorium was completed last week and the seats and piano moved in by the manual training boys with the result of several mashed fingers.

ORCHESTRA AT WORK
The orchestra work has been resumed with Miss Ater as director. Besides the director there are 13 members. The members are as follows: Miss Fifi and Bertus Carleton Bennett, violin; Carroll Hughes, John Kirk and Maynard Campbell, saxophones; William Brown, Trombone; Willie Cleary, Junior Campbell and George Speakman, cornet; Oakley Turner and Donald Cleary, drums; Lela Tarbill and Kathryn Kirk, piano. Of these 11 played in our orchestra last year.

County Supt. M. C. Warren visited the local school Monday afternoon.

The school busses have now been marked according to law and attention is called to the law requiring traffic to stop while they are loading or unloading pupils.

Pickaway To Be Represented
At Gathering To Consider Amendment.

The proposed tax limit amendment, to be voted on Nov. 5, is to be explained to building and loan officers from this community at a meeting to be held next Tuesday in Athens.

Local loan officials will join with others from Adams, Athens, Gallia, Highland, Hocking, Jackson, Lawrence, Meigs, Morgan, Pike, Pickaway, Ross, Scioto and Vinton counties to hear officers of their state organization discuss the proposed tax reform.

Inasmuch as building and loan companies lend approximately all of their funds on homes, officers of these institutions are vitally interested in tax changes that will affect the home owner.

A bulletin from the office of James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association League, points out to building and loan officers that real estate bears 75 per cent of the taxable property in Ohio. "Home owners are unorganized," Mr. Devine's statement continues, "and building and loan officers should accept the responsibility of acquainting them with a tax amendment, drafted from the sole standpoint of protecting the owner of real estate from further tax inroads under the Uniform Rule." The building and loan men from this section of the state will be asked to endorse the proposed tax limit assessment and assist in the campaign which is now being waged in Ohio for its adoption.

AUTOMOBILE HORNS

The City of New York has begun a campaign under a law which makes unlawful the unnecessary blowing "of horns and the use of horns and other sound-making devices that are unnecessarily loud or harsh," and thus inaugurates what may be a national crusade. Let us at least hope so.

In the early days of automobiles, when the world was in the horse and buggy age a horn was an absolute essential. Today, in most cases, it is used by drivers in lieu of brakes and thus it is not only annoying but extremely dangerous. Many drivers today dash through a populated district without abating their speed one bit, sounding their horns almost continuously so that they may take the right of way by reason of their insistence and their recklessness.

The difficulty is that many drivers think that the sounding of a horn is the mark of a very careful driver and is to be commended rather than condemned. Such, however, is not the case, for the good driver is so careful himself and has his car so constantly under control, that he has absolutely no need of a warning signal. If he is approaching a dangerous intersection he does not sound a long blast on his noisemaker, but approaches the crossing at slow speed and makes certain that it is safe to proceed before he does so.

Car drivers need education in this regard. Civilization today is noisy enough without the incessant and irritating squawk of auto horns. Let every driver join in the movement to abate the nuisance.

FOOTBALL

Critics of modern college football picture it as an organized and commercialized spectacle. They even complain that the cheering sections are organized and lack that desired amateurish spontaneity. Few will deny that college football today is a "big business," with some teams collecting as much as $300,000 in gate receipts in one short season and with corps of high salaried coaches and trainers and large squads of subsidized players, but after all the commercialism found in football is something different from that associated with professional baseball. It may be traditions, it may be the players and it may be a difference in those who fill the gridiron stands and those who fill the baseball bleachers, but compared with baseball the sport of football is decidedly unprofessional and uncommercialized.

The football player who excels under its present stage of development must have physical endurance and strength and mental alertness. Both are splendid qualities for the business of making a living out of sport. No better evidence that football is played to the king's taste today could be found than the fact that never was the sport so popular as now, never was it better played and never did it so strongly compete with baseball for the coveted title of the Great American Game.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has escaped to Virginia, where he meets Marian Thorndike. Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," who is in love with Eddie, is forgotten in Eddie's dreams of Marian. Penfield Paradine, last member of an aristocratic Southern family, whom Eddie befriends, dies and leaves Eddie all his possessions. Eddie declares his love to Marian, but she discourages him. She is thrown from her horse, and Tom Freeman, searching for her, finds her in Eddie's house, where she has gone for help. He takes her home, and the next day Marian sends a note of thanks to Eddie for taking care of her. He goes to call on her, and the door is opened by her father. Marian and Eddie are having tea when the servant announces Mr. Freeman.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XVIII.
"WE were just having tea, Tom. I'll get a fresh pot for you." She rang a little bell that was on the table.

Freeman sat down heavily, with leisurely self-assurance, beside her. "I meant to ride over and see you this morning but I was tied up with a man who's looking at my timber," he said, easily familiar. "How you feeling today?"

"Just fine," Marian smiled at him. "Katherine is going to have a dance at her house Friday night. Think you'll be able to go?"

"Of course I will—I wouldn't miss it."

Freeman grinned complacently. "I'll come around and take you. Maybe I'll show up for dinner, if I can make it."

Eddie was dismayed at the casual assumption of Freeman of these privileges. It was as though, almost, he was engaged to Marian. The way he looked at her and his speech indicated there was nothing new in any of this. And she accepted him, was unaware, apparently, that he possessed an obnoxious personality. Eddie could not understand why anyone as fine as Marian tolerated such a boor. He reasoned it must be because she had known him all her life and had become insensible of his unpleasantness.

But she was too considerate to give her exclusive attention for long to Freeman, and she turned again to Eddie. "Do you dance, Mr. Regan?"

"I used to."

His mind flashed back to the gaudy dance halls in New York, the crowded excursion boat parties on the Hudson, the raucous, crowded ballrooms of Coney Island in the Summer. That was the kind of dancing he had known—massed humanity moving in close-packed rhythm to the blaring strains of jazz bands. Any dance here in the country that Marian Thorndike attended would be utterly unlike anything he had known in the past. Her presence would give a beauty and grace that would make the whole party deliciously unique. Dimly he perceived a social existence elevated and refined.

"Some time you must come to some of the dances we have," Marian told him. "They have them right in the homes. It's a lot of fun."

Freeman looked at Eddie with flashy, protuberant eyes. "What you talking about, Marian? This fellow can't go to dances if he's got any respect for the man who died and left him a farm. Not right away."

Eddie realized reluctantly that Freeman was right. For the moment he had forgotten the obligation of respect to Penfield Paradine; Marian, too, had forgotten.

"That's right, I reckon." It was the first time he had used the word "reckon"—always before he had said "guess." He was pleased in a vague way that he had absorbed the new word; he had heard it from Tobie; and Marian had used the word herself. It made her feel somehow closer to him.

The tall form of her father appeared at the door, and his eyes appeared to ignore Eddie.

"Will you step out here a minute, Tom, please—I want to have a word with you."

In Mr. Thorndike's tone there was the same easy acceptance of Tom Freeman as an equal that had characterized Marian's manner to him. But none of this was pointed out to Eddie; and therefore all the more roughing to Eddie's spirit. He disliked Tom Freeman for a dozen reasons; for the way he looked and talked and acted and for the way he treated Marian and her friendliness to him in return. Despite his own efforts to be at ease, Eddie could not repress the feeling that he was trying to force his way through a strong current of opposition. There was no doubt in his mind that he was deliberately unwanted. Not so far as the girl was concerned, however; the way Marian treated him was immense.

These thoughts, he imagined, were deeply buried and concealed, and he was astonished when Marian unexpectedly seemed to read his mind.

"You don't like Tom, do you?" she asked him.

But Eddie suppressed instantly the desire to tell the truth; if the man was her friend it was not up to him to express criticism.

"He's all right."

"No, he rubs your fur the wrong way," she declared. "As soon as he came into the room you were a different person. I am sorry you two don't like each other."

Eddie inquired: "He isn't so strong 'or me, is he?"

"He doesn't know you, that's all. Tom is really a pretty good sort of person—and father thinks the world of him. They go hunting together quite a good bit. You see, we've all been neighbors here for so many generations that we're almost like relatives. Tom seems as close to me as a cousin at least. You mustn't mind anything he says, or the way he acts."

"That guy don't feel toward you like he was a relative," Eddie said, unconsciously slipping back into the vernacular of his native East Side. There was a note in his voice that struck harshly upon Marian Thorndike's ear.

"Tom's all right, if you know him," she said, quietly.

Eddie felt something revolve in his breast that rasped like a burr. From her he wanted some assurance that would alleviate the feeling.

"I suppose he's crazy about you."

"I suppose so," she told him negligently. "He expects to marry me."

All of the color, Eddie imagined, started to drain out of his own face. It was as though he had been struck a heavy staggering blow.

"You can't do a thing like that," he said, in a hollow voice. "You couldn't marry him... a mar like he is..."

His speech produced a faint print of distress on her face. "Do you have to go into that?" she asked—and from that distant tone he felt a swift rebuke.

An impression came to him that he had perhaps overstayed the allotted time for an afternoon call. Subconsciously, he felt that the pleasantness between them had disappeared; too quickly he had become presumptuous and when he pressed forward with an opinion concerning her intimate personal affairs she had retreated faster than he could pursue her. Yes, it was time for him to go and he got to his feet. At that moment Freeman came back into the room.

"Going, Regan?"

"Yes, I'll be getting along now," Eddie admitted. Freeman looked at him with appraising eyes for a moment before speaking.

"I'll go along with you. We can have a little conversation."

Tom Freeman and Eddie Regan left the house together; together they walked to the tree where Eddie's horse was hitched.

"Nice weather we are having," Freeman said. He meant this. Eddie realized, to be casual and to cover up the awkward space of time until they were away from the house.

"Sure—it's fine weather," Eddie responded, not pleasantly. "You like the weather, do you?" Freeman inquired, coldly.

"Yes, I like it."

"The weather around this place might not be so healthy for everybody," Freeman pointed out. "For instance, the weather might do you a lot more good up the road three or four miles where you live."

Eddie looked at him and raised his brow slightly. "Yes? Well, I like the weather around here pretty good just as it is."

SOUTH SEAS IS FILM'S SCENE

Ramon Navarro Has Role of Islander In "The Pagan" At Cliftona.

The haunting beauty of the tropics, the grim drama of the islander against the complications of a white man's civilization and a love story, delicate as a jungle orchid, these are the ingredients that go into "The Pagan," Ramon Navarro's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, starring vehicle, a sound synchronized film in which Navarro sings "The Pagan Love Song," theme song of the production, now being shown at the Cliftona theatre.

Filmed in the South Seas, amid the gorgeous sunsets, blue waters and exotic greenery, the play is a vivid filmization of John Russell's famous novel and the film clings closely to the original book.

Navarro plays a young islander, half native, who is pitted against the complications of the white man's civilizations and laws. As the child of nature, with his vivid light under water with the sharks, his canoe rides and other thrills, Navarro has the most strenuous of his roles since "Ben Hur," and the love story, worked out with himself and Dorothy Janis, is a most engrossing and appealing one.

Renee Adoree plays "Madge," the white adventuress, rival of the native girl for the love of the youth, with a convincing skill. Dorothy Janis, a newcomer, appears as the native sweetheart, and Donald Crisp as the domineering trader is Navarro's enemy.

Roman Elevation

The historian Pliny declares that for 600 years bathing was the Roman's only medicine. However, the Romans went to an extreme and the public baths became the lazy man's paradise—an evil rather than the basis of a wonderful custom. The Roman became an idler, a dawdler—and was an easy victim for the conquerors from the North.

Single prescription made a family doctor famous

SELDOM has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than the one which Dr. Caldwell performed back in 1885 when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote this prescription as he found men, women, and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, poor appetite, or lack of energy, etc. And it invariably relieved these symptoms so much more pleasantly, so much quicker than other things, that his patients simply had to tell other people about it.

The demand for this prescription grew so fast that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use and supply drug stores with it. Today you can get the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, at all drug stores.

When you or your children suffer from any of the symptoms of constipation, it will pay you to remember this safe, pleasant-tasting, effective laxative; made only from herbs and other pure ingredients; a real corrective for constipation. A doctor's 47-year experience behind this formula!

Miller J. Huggins Loses Fight With Death—Burial In Cincinnati.

By HENRY McEMORE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Robbed by death of one of its most noted and colorful figures the world of baseball today mourned the passing of Miller J. Huggins.

Huggins' death injected once again into baseball that rare note of pathos which has come but at infrequent intervals into the history of the great National game, as both major leagues joined in paying tribute to the passing of the gallant little leader. His own American League will play no games at the order of President Ernest Barnard while flags over the National parks will flutter at half mast.

The baseball world today found it hard to believe that the little manager under whose dynamic leadership the New York Yankees established themselves as one of the greatest teams of all time, was gone. That the little old familiar figure squatted on the Yankee dug-out, bright eyes squinted against the hard glare of the infield, had signalled for his last double steal. That the under-nourished looking little fellow who, by the sheer weight of his personality had driven some two tons of Yankee brawn to six pennants and three world championships, had gone to join that deathless process of which Christy Mathewson is the shining light.

DEATHLESS FAME

But there was the consolation of knowing that as long as baseball is played Miller Jerome Huggins will be remembered as one of the matchless managers of all time.

Huggins played his last and biggest battle before a hushed handful of people in a small room of St. Vincent's hospital—a strange contrast to his earlier battles before screaming thousands in the vast Yankee stadium. He passed away without a farewell as his sister and brother looked on.

Tomorrow his beloved Yankees will pay a final tribute. The Yankee-Washington game at Washington will be called off and the players brought here for the funeral at the little church around the corner, Dr. J. E. Price of the Washington Heights Methodist Episcopal church, a life-long friend, will officiate at the simple services. Following this the body will be carried to Cincinnati where Huggins was born and where he will be buried beside his mother and father.

FAVOR LOUGHRAN TO BEAT SHARKEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(INS)—A poll made by International News Service today reveals that Tommy Loughran is the choice of most New York, boxing cities to win the big heavyweight elimination bout tonight at the Yankee stadium.

Jack Sharkey, however, is a slight favorite with the betting fraternity, his chances of defeating the Philadelphia mauler being quoted along Broadway at 6 to 5.

Approximately nine writers pick Loughran to emerge victorious, while five are stringing with Sharkey. In some instances different writers on the same newspaper have expressed varying opinions.

Why wait another year to own an Eight . . . ?

You'll be out of date within a year without an EIGHT!

It's evident on every hand—America wants to stay in high gear!

The public knows that extra gear shifting and other engineering devices applied to a six-cylinder motor will not give the smoothness and flexibility of an eight.

The fine cars started it. Now we find the same sweeping trend among cars of moderate cost. In eight key states for the first six months of 1929, registrations above $1000 showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights while sixes above $1000 showed a decrease of 16 per cent.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that hold 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Measure it point for point and feature for feature against the best six that you know. Then remember—your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!—for Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with sixes.

Sun-Tan Is The Fashion!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

False modesty is a relic of an ancient prejudice. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has cut it away and, in behalf of better health and pure enjoyment, sponsors the fashion of sensible swimming attire.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. B32, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The Doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. "KONJOLA GAVE ME GLORIOUS NEW HEALTH"

Grateful Canton Lady Describes Wonderful Relief New Medicine Brought Her.

MRS. KATIE MILLER.

"I owe all my glorious new health to this wonderful new medicine, Konjola," said Mrs. Katie Miller, 731 Alexander place, Canton, Ohio. "My stomach was in a very poor condition, and was a source of constant worry to me. Food soured in my stomach and a hot, sour liquid would come up into my throat. I was constipated and the strongest laxatives gave me only temporary relief. Neuritis soon took hold.

"At last I am free from all my miseries. Thanks to Konjola, my food digests and gas no longer bothers me. The sour liquid does not come up into my throat. My appetite has returned. I have forgotten that I ever had constipation. My kidneys have been restored to normal. The neuritis pains have been driven from my body. I am thankful for what Konjola has done for me."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, Ohio, at Hamilton & Ryan's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Term of Derision

A nincompoop is a foolish or silly person; a boob. The origin of the word is uncertain. Some think it is a corruption of Latin legal phrase "non compos," which is a shortened form of "non compos mentis," meaning not possessed of one's mind. "Liripoop" is also applied to a silly person.

Modern Curative Process

In the old days when meat, bacon, pork or ham was preserved or cured, it was done by the method of covering it with salt. But the modern curer has found that salt extracts water and so it has been discarded. When commodities are cured nowadays the chemical process keeps in all the water.

She was deprived of a mother's care at the tender age of eight years and at the age of 11 years was compelled to make her own way in the world. Although missing the advantages of childhood she was always ready and willing to sacrifice everything that her children obtain the advantages she had missed.

She was united in marriage to Henry Shannon, on Aug. 12, 1862. To this union were born nine children. One son, Charles and daughter, Carrie, dying in infancy. Seven children were reared to young manhood and womanhood, four of whom are still living. George T. of Columbus; John C. of Duval, Walter H. of Sacramento, Calif., and Mrs. Henry B. Ward of Pickaway-twp.

She and her companion were privileged to walk life's pathway together for 58 years her passing to the great beyond on Feb. 3, 1920.

Three children also preceded her in death, Cora B., Minnie Lee and Neal. She is also survived by one brother, Isaac Miller, of Lockbourne, 17 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Besides her own family she reared two grandchildren, Mrs. Rosella Koehler and Glenn G. Shannon of near Ashville. She united with the M. E. church at Ashbury later transferring her membership to the M. E. church at Ashville of which she was a member at the time of her death.

Farewell, Mother, how we'll miss you

And our loss we deeply feel

A regular meeting of the Circleville Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held Friday night at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock. All members are asked to take notice and to attend if possible.

"AUNT LUCIA" IS COMING TO TOWN
"Aunt Lucia," the famous collegiate comedy, selected by the Circleville Athletic Club, for an amateur show, to be presented on October 31st and November 1st, has been wisely chosen. There will be 100 in the cast, who will all be called upon to be comedians, for there is nothing but mirth in the whole performance.

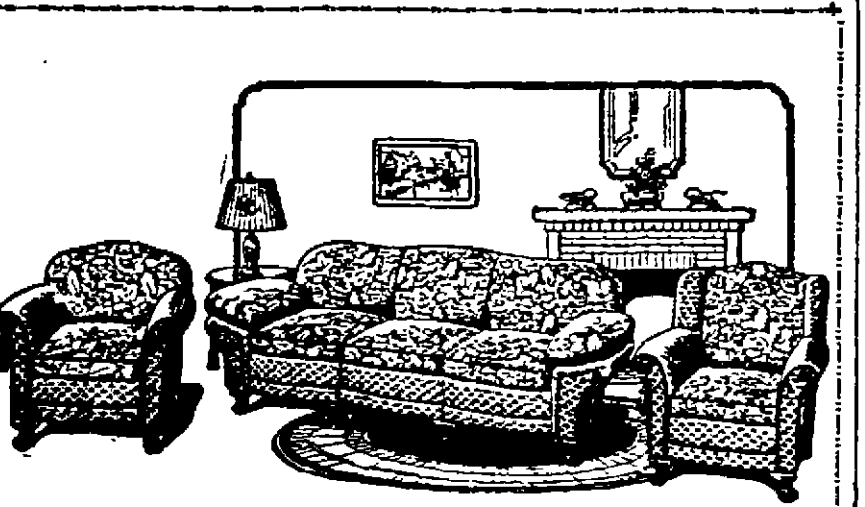

The play deals with the homecoming of Bula Bula College, and has a collegiate plot from start to finish. Many comical situations which are hilarious, are reminiscent of that comedy "Charlie's Aunt," which will always be a favorite.

In addition to the play proper, there are a number of special features including the college glee club, with 18 men, which opens the show. The famous flapper chorus of the Sig Siga Rette sorority is one of the high spots in the performance. This chorus consists of 28 men who portray famous college girls, and types such as teacher's pet, the sorority president, a spinster school teacher, and even Cleopatra.

The opening of the play is featured by a curtain raiser, the big Baby Pageant with children between the ages of five and seven. This will be something new in entertainment and has been proven exceptionally successful.

Another feature of the show is 25 high school girls, in costume choruses and special song numbers. The success of "Aunt Lucia" depends upon the departure from the usual home town production, and has nothing serious, in its line. It will be a stage performance for everyone to enjoy.

Work Is the Law

Like iron that lying idle about degenerates into a mass of useless rust, like water that in an unutilized pool sickens into a stagnant and corrupt state, so without action the spirit of men turns to a dead thing. loses its force, ceases to inspire us to leave some trace of ourselves on this earth.—Joseph Conrad.

Here's Record Wedding

A town councillor in Brittany saw his three sons and two daughters married on the same day. The brides of two of the sons were sisters, and the bridegroom of one of the daughters was the brother of these two brides. Thus five children of one family and three of another were all married at once.

Differences in Steel

The bureau of standards says that the difference between stainless iron and stainless steel is mainly a difference in carbon content. Stainless iron has practically no carbon.

Secret of Success

Maybe the durability of the old Roman roads could be attributed to the fact that they weren't eternally dug up for sewer, gas, water, light, power and other lines.—Arkansas Gazette.
